

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of April 8th:

Grace Lawrence

Hometown Pride:

"I am proud to be part of this community because everyone is willing to help each other. There is a sense of unity between people. No matter where you go, people are willing to help you with what you need."

Bleacher Report:

Sports:

Clubs: Above and Beyond, TADD

Thunder Role:

"It's important for student athletes and club members to be good role models because they are the people that kids look up to. The kids notice everything that you do so it's important that you leave a good impression for them to look up to."

Topic Thunder:

"Starting the use of drugs and alcohol is really easy. However, it's nearly impossible to quit and can ruin many opportunities that you may have had before. Also, if you're in a sport and they find out that you are doing these things, you will be taken off of the team. Drugs and alcohol will hurt you more than they will help you."

Scouting Report:

"Grace stands up for her beliefs. She isn't afraid to speak out when she doesn't believe something is right, or if someone isn't making a wise choice. Those are great qualities for a high school student to possess." – Mrs. Beasley

"Grace is a diligent, attentive member of our choir's soprano section. She is a true servant leader to our choir." – Mrs. Vogt

"Grace consistently does well in class with very little assistance needed! She is a quiet leader for her classmates." – Mr. Stoik

Fan Deck:

"Grace is a positive person and makes everyone smile."

"Grace stands up for what she believes in. She is not afraid to voice her opinion even if it isn't what matches everyone else."

Hometown Hero:

"My hometown hero is Pam Graham. I chose her because she is always willing to help others before herself. She was also in the military which is amazing. She is so caring, kind and selfless."
