

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of January 27th:

Hailey Abram

Hometown Pride:

"I am proud to be a part of this community because everyone is there for you when you need it. That's the good thing about such a small town is that everyone knows everyone and that means they will be there for you and you can count on them."

Bleacher Report (activities):

Sports: Volleyball and Basketball

Clubs: Above and Beyond, Science Olympiad, Quiz Bowl, NHS

Thunder Role:

"It's important for athletes and club members to be good role models because so many students will look up to them. Younger athletes and club members will admire them so much and want to be just like them. Because so many will look up to them they need to be good role models so others that follow in their footsteps will too."

Topic Thunder:

"I think that it's important for students to stay away from drugs and alcohol because there will always be someone who looks up to you. So even if you don't know it someone wants to be more like you and you should want them to admire a good role model."

Scouting Report (quotes from teachers):

"Hailey is multi-talented and well-rounded. She has a variety of interests and is able to succeed in a variety of different activities." – Mrs. Simpson

Fan Deck (quotes from peers):

"Hailey is super smart, cares about her grades and is an awesome friend."

"Hailey is very nice to everyone. She includes everyone with everything she does."

"Hailey is nice to everyone and tries to be the best she can be."

"Whenever I need help with math or English Hailey helps me out."

Hometown Hero:

"My hometown hero is Mr. Davis because he is always there for me, whether it's helping with homework or being someone to talk to when I need it. I know I can always count on him to be an adult I can share anything with. He's always there for his students even if they just need a place to cry for a bit. He encourages kids to try new things and brings out the best in everyone. Every student knows that they can trust him and that he will always do the right thing to help people out. He's always making things fun for everyone and I look forward to his class every day."
