

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of May 14th:

Jenna Bischoff

Hometown Pride: "I am proud to be part of the Osseo-Fairchild community because you don't just feel like another kid in the school.

You have a chance to stand out and influence peoples' lives. Everyone knows you. You can go to Kwik Trip and talk to the first person you see, or you can go to the Norske Nook and your best friend might wait on you."

Bleacher Report:

Sports: Basketball

Clubs: Above and Beyond and FBLA

Thunder Role:

"It is important to be a good role model because it helps people break out of their shell and become stronger personally. It helps you feel like you're doing good deeds for yourself and others."

Topic Thunder:

"Drugs and alcohol can affect you mentally and affect your future. Alcohol is a depressant and can cause you to not be stable meaning you won't work hard at easy everyday things."

Scouting Report:

"Jenna is a fantastic student. She is confident, positive, helpful and hard-working. I have truly enjoyed having her as a student." – Mrs. Dickens

"Jenna is not only just cool, she is one of the most insightful and intelligent students that I have met her in Osseo-Fairchild. She is so incredibly bright, sharp (attentive), and witty! She makes me laugh so much with her great sense of humor and fun personality. Aside from being incredibly talented in art, she has so many talents – I know she will be amazing at anything that she chooses in her future. I am really going to miss her. Another very bright future ahead!" – Ms. Covelli

"Jenna is a respectful, kind and great student to have in class. Lots of luck for Jenna in her future!" –Mrs. Pinero

Fan Deck:

"Jenna is kind to others."

"Jenna helps other to succeed."

"Jenna can make you laugh anytime."

Hometown Hero:

"Sharon Steinke, she works hard for the school and would do anything for you. Mrs. Steinke thinks about everyone individually and tries to help you achieve your goals. I was trying to buy a car and her being the business teacher she is, she helped me with researching information about the vehicle and how to negotiate a deal with the dealership. Whether I got the vehicle or not, she was there to help if I had any questions and offered great advice to take with me. Mrs. Steinke has inspired me to go to college for a business management degree and work hard towards my dreams."
