

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of January 21st:

Keila Kittelson

Hometown Pride:

"I am proud to be a part of the Osseo-Fairchild community because everyone is so close and accepting. You can always expect a full crowd where everyone is so supportive of the sports and extracurriculars at school."

Bleacher Report:

Sports: Golf, Basketball and Track Clubs: Above and Beyond, NHS and FBLA

Thunder Role:

"It's important to be a good role model because little kids look up to you and want to be just like you. If you are positive in your actions, the kids will be too. If you are showing a bad example the kids will think that is ok to do."

Topic Thunder:

"Alcohol and drugs have a direct effect on your body's mental and physical composition. Losing focus in school or life can lead you down a path of poor grades and bad decisions. I feel it is important to take all necessary steps to succeed in life; drugs and alcohol are definitely not going to help you."

Scouting Report:

"Keila makes everyone around her smile. Her enthusiasm is contagious and her spirit is indomitable. She attacks challenges head on and foresees when she might have trouble, but Keila keeps chipping away at the task and comes out the winner. I would always want Keila on my team!" – Mrs. Beasley

"Keila has a smile and a lugh that can light up a room! Her peers look to her as a role model." – Mrs. Zawacki

"I do not currently have Keila in class, but she is such a great role model every time I see her – both in and out of school. She is friendly, sincere, and always willing to help others out. She is a great person to represent OFHS." – Mr. Boettcher

Fan Deck:

"Keila is very kind and caring with others."

"Keila is passionate and outgoing."

"Keila brings a lot of happiness to others."

Hometown Hero:

"A hometown hero of mine is Shirley Bagley. I have known Shirley since I was little and she is always there if I need her to be. She is always willing to lend a helping hand and I know I can always come to her if I need anything."
