

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of May 13th:

Leah Reynolds

Hometown Pride:

"Everybody knows everybody.
There are many people who are very supportive and willing to help in times of need."

Bleacher Report:

Sports: Dance and Track

Clubs: Above and Beyond, TADD, FBLA, NHS

Thunder Role:

"People look up to the high school students. Especially if they are in sports or clubs. I always hear the bad that kids do. Now, we need to hear more of people doing the good things."

Topic Thunder:

"You can damage your hippocampus at a very young age. With that, you can lose memories and affect your future. Nobody wants to risk their future for something temporary."

Scouting Report:

"When I think about FBLA – Leah's name comes to mind. She has been a very dedicated member and will receive the highest BAA – America award this summer. Congrats Leah on all your hard work and efforts! Best of luck next year in competition." – Mrs. Steinke

"Leah is a conscientious student that is willing to put in the extra effort to be successful. I am thankful for her efforts at participating in class discussions!" – Mr. Stoik

"Leah is a respectful, dedicated, determined, humble, considerate and one of the nicest students at school. I really enjoyed having her as my student." – Mrs. Pinero

Fan Deck:

"Leah is so nice to everybody."

"Leah is so sweet."

Hometown Hero:

"Lori Reynolds is my hometown hero because she does a lot for me! She is very strong and cares for everyone. She helps me with everything and even kills all the spiders that live in the house! And she is my mom!"
