

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of May 3rd:

Madison Hugdahl

Hometown Pride:

Bleacher Report (activities):

Sports: Basketball and Volleyball

Clubs: Above and Beyond, TADD, FBLA and Student Council

Outside of School: ASP, CYA, and Ruby's Pantry

Thunder Role:

"Even if you do not know it, a lot of younger kids look up to you and one day they may take your actions for themselves and act the way you did in high school so it's important to set a good example for them."

Topic Thunder:

"If you are planning on going somewhere for sports in college, doing drugs and other things could really mess up your chances of going places. Also younger students will see what you do and think it's okay and this could ruin their and your futures."

Scouting Report (quotes from teachers):

"Madison is a hoot to have in class -- I never know what funny thing she might say or do. It's a pleasure to work with her each day. Whenever she has to be virtual, her absence is always noticeable!" – Mrs. Beasley

"Madison was a vital part of the volleyball's team making it to State this year and I'm proud of her leadership role she moved into. Her growth over the last two years will be a great stepping stone into her future!

Congratulations Madison on your basketball commitment at Viterbo!" – Mrs. Steinke

"I have been impressed with Madison's advancement and growth over the years as a student, athlete and more importantly as a person." – Mr. Stoik

"I have enjoyed watching Madison grow into a solid basketball player. It will be fun to watch her take her game to the next level." – Mr. Fischer

Fan Deck (quotes from peers):

"Madison is a great student that works hard to achieve success while always helping those around her."

Hometown Hero:

"My hometown hero is Mrs. Beasley because she always makes class fun and we always have some weird fun conversations."
