

The Above and Beyond 'Thunder Clap'
Recognition for the Week of May 27th:

Wyatt McCune

Hometown Pride:

"I am proud to be part of the Osseo-Fairchild community because it is so willing to support students financially for school trips and fundraising. The community is also very good at coming and supporting athletes and their teams."

Bleacher Report:

Sports: Basketball and Baseball

Clubs: Above and Beyond

Thunder Role:

"It is important to be a good role model because the younger kids look up to you. You should also be a good role model on and off the field and in the classroom."

Topic Thunder:

"Drugs and alcohol can ruin your life. Also, if you are an athlete you get held to a higher standard and if you can get caught with these and it could ruin your season."

Scouting Report:

"I have known Wyatt since he was in the 7th grade and through that time, he has always been a very polite and respectful student. I have also enjoyed our many conversations over the years about sports!" – Mr. Stoik

"Wyatt is a very conscientious student. He always puts in extra time and effort for my classes." – Mr. Velie

Fan Deck:

"Wyatt is a good friend and easy to get along with."

Hometown Hero:

"My hometown hero is Brandt Freitag because he's always willing to help in the community by working at the hospital and by helping coach baseball."
